Days News In Gary

PRONOUNCED DEAD; COMES TO LIFE

Gary steel workers are telling a story about a coke oven employee who fell from the gas tank at the steel works yesterday and struck a high voltage wire.

The man was apparently lifeless and he was brought into the coke oven offices. Six or seven employees examined him—there was no sign of life nor even a heart beat—and after trying to restore life by artificial means, rang up the hospital for the morgue wagon to take away a corpse.

Just as the dead wagon came clanging up the coke oven road the "dead" man jumped up and went back to work.

HARRY MOOSE IN COURT TUESDAY

The certain rings up again in the Gary bribery melodrama, once more. The time is next Tuesday and the place is the circuit court in Crown Point. Harry Moose, former city clerk of Gary, who disappeared while a star witness for the state in the bribery trials, will play the chief part—if it is to be played.

At the preliminary hearing held several days ago in Justice Nicholson's court Moose pleaded guilty to the charge of accepting a total bribe of $4,000 from Mayer T. E. Knotts and William A. Cain for leaving the jurisdiction of the state while a witness in the Dean bribery trials.

Moose was held to the circuit court in bonds of $10,000, which he did not give. The November term begins Monday, but only probate work will be taken up on that date. On Tuesday Judge McMahon will not come.

According to the state's program Moose's case will not occupy more than five minutes. Important developments are expected to follow should a conviction ensue.

Samuel Parker of South Bend and William F. Hodges of Gary are special prosecutors in the Moose case.

Nothing Doing Now.

Carl E. Bauer, the chairman of the building committee of the Hammond Saengerbund-Idella, stated that the project for the building of the new home of the organization, is in a quiescent state for the time being.

The bids on the new building were received and were so high that it was decided to wait until next year before proceeding with the work. In the meantime an effort will be made to raise additional funds so that the building may be constructed along the original lines and not curtailed in any respect.
